

Support Women and Children in Cambodia to Design Higher Added-Value Products with Their Traditional Hand-Woven Fabrics.

2019/10/14

Since 2004, Leich Capital Management Ltd. has continuously supported many non-profit organization around the world that help solve social and environmental problems. We are committed to support and working with more than 100 non-profit organization around the world. We have decided to do our utmost to hlep the world in peace, stop poverty and protect the environment.

Children means the future, but a lot children cannot grow up safely and happily because of war, natural disasters, poverty. According to the "Global Food Crisis Report of 2019" released by the United Nations recently, about 110 million people in the world still have severe hunger in 2018. Leich is very concerned about the disadvantaged children around the world and has long been indirectly or directly assisting many children in Indonesia, Haiti, Vietnam and Cambodia by donate to many charitis and humanitarian groups. We hope to give children a safe and healthy environment to grow, and to strengthen education and life skills to make the future more hopeful.

One of the institutions we support for a long time is The Field Relief Agency of Taiwan. They are based on the concept of "small cultivating a grass" to help orphans, poor children, and medical-free areas in Cambodia for over 24 years.

This year, The Field Relief Agency of Taiwan assist those children and women learn the skill of traditional hand-woven and design the fabrics become a unique and colorful 2020 notebook. From spinning, dyeing, and weaving patterns, a complete piece of traditional hand-weaving fabrics needs 7 working days, but only can be cuted for 8 books. Leich Capital Management Ltd. will support this collection comes from the precious traditional Cambodian culture by purchase and share it with all our customers, friends and partners.

Every time we remember the smile with full of accomplishments on those children's faces, which makes us work harder to support more development of innovative ideas and help more selfless charities or humanitarian groups wich is hleping solve economic and social problems around the world. If you also would like to support "The Field Relief Agency of Taiwan", please visit their website (<https://www.fra.org.tw/Default.aspx>) to learn more.
