LEICH ARBITRAGE FUND Can Defeat Many Mainstream Investment Tools In Stability

22 April 2020

Leich Arbitrage Fund has faced five global stock crisis since its launch in 2014 but still maintains positive returns

Leich Arbitrage Fund aim to provide customers with the most stable remuneration, and achieved absolute stop loss and stop profit. Although the Leich Arbitrage Fund has only been issued for six years, the traders have more than 20 years of trading experience, and their experience can even be traced back to four generations, accumulating more than 100 years of craftsmanship. In pursuit of excellence, Leich Arbitrage Fund focuses on agricultural commodity only. By grasping the big data accumulated over the past 100 years, and send researchers to crop production areas in the world to get newest information, Leich can be more than others. Quickly and accurately predict changes in the market.

Leich does not pursue high profits in short-term, but accumulat low profits stably in long-term. Today, the global economy is weak, Stock, Bonds, Currencies, Heavy Metals and Oil are impacted frequently and become more difficult to be predict, and too much hot money flowing into high-risk emerging markets. Leich believe that agricultural commodity relatively stable and highly predictable with today's new technologies, and investe a lot of systematic development for many years, and continuously refined trading strategies.

2020 is a difficult year for the global human community. Leich is still working hard to maintain stable rewards for the customers, and also donate to the hardest hit area in the United States-New York, fight Coronavirus toge ther!
